

Known-motif difference versus original

Known-motif difference versus context

Vertical axis zoomed to effects. 95% paired event-bootstrap intervals use shared draws within the three known cells across all fixed models and policies. Intervals condition on these trained models; the fixed-model mean is not seed-population uncertainty. Both baselines and all seeds retained. Held-out competence is separate; positive direction alone does not establish the registered all-seed acquisition claim.